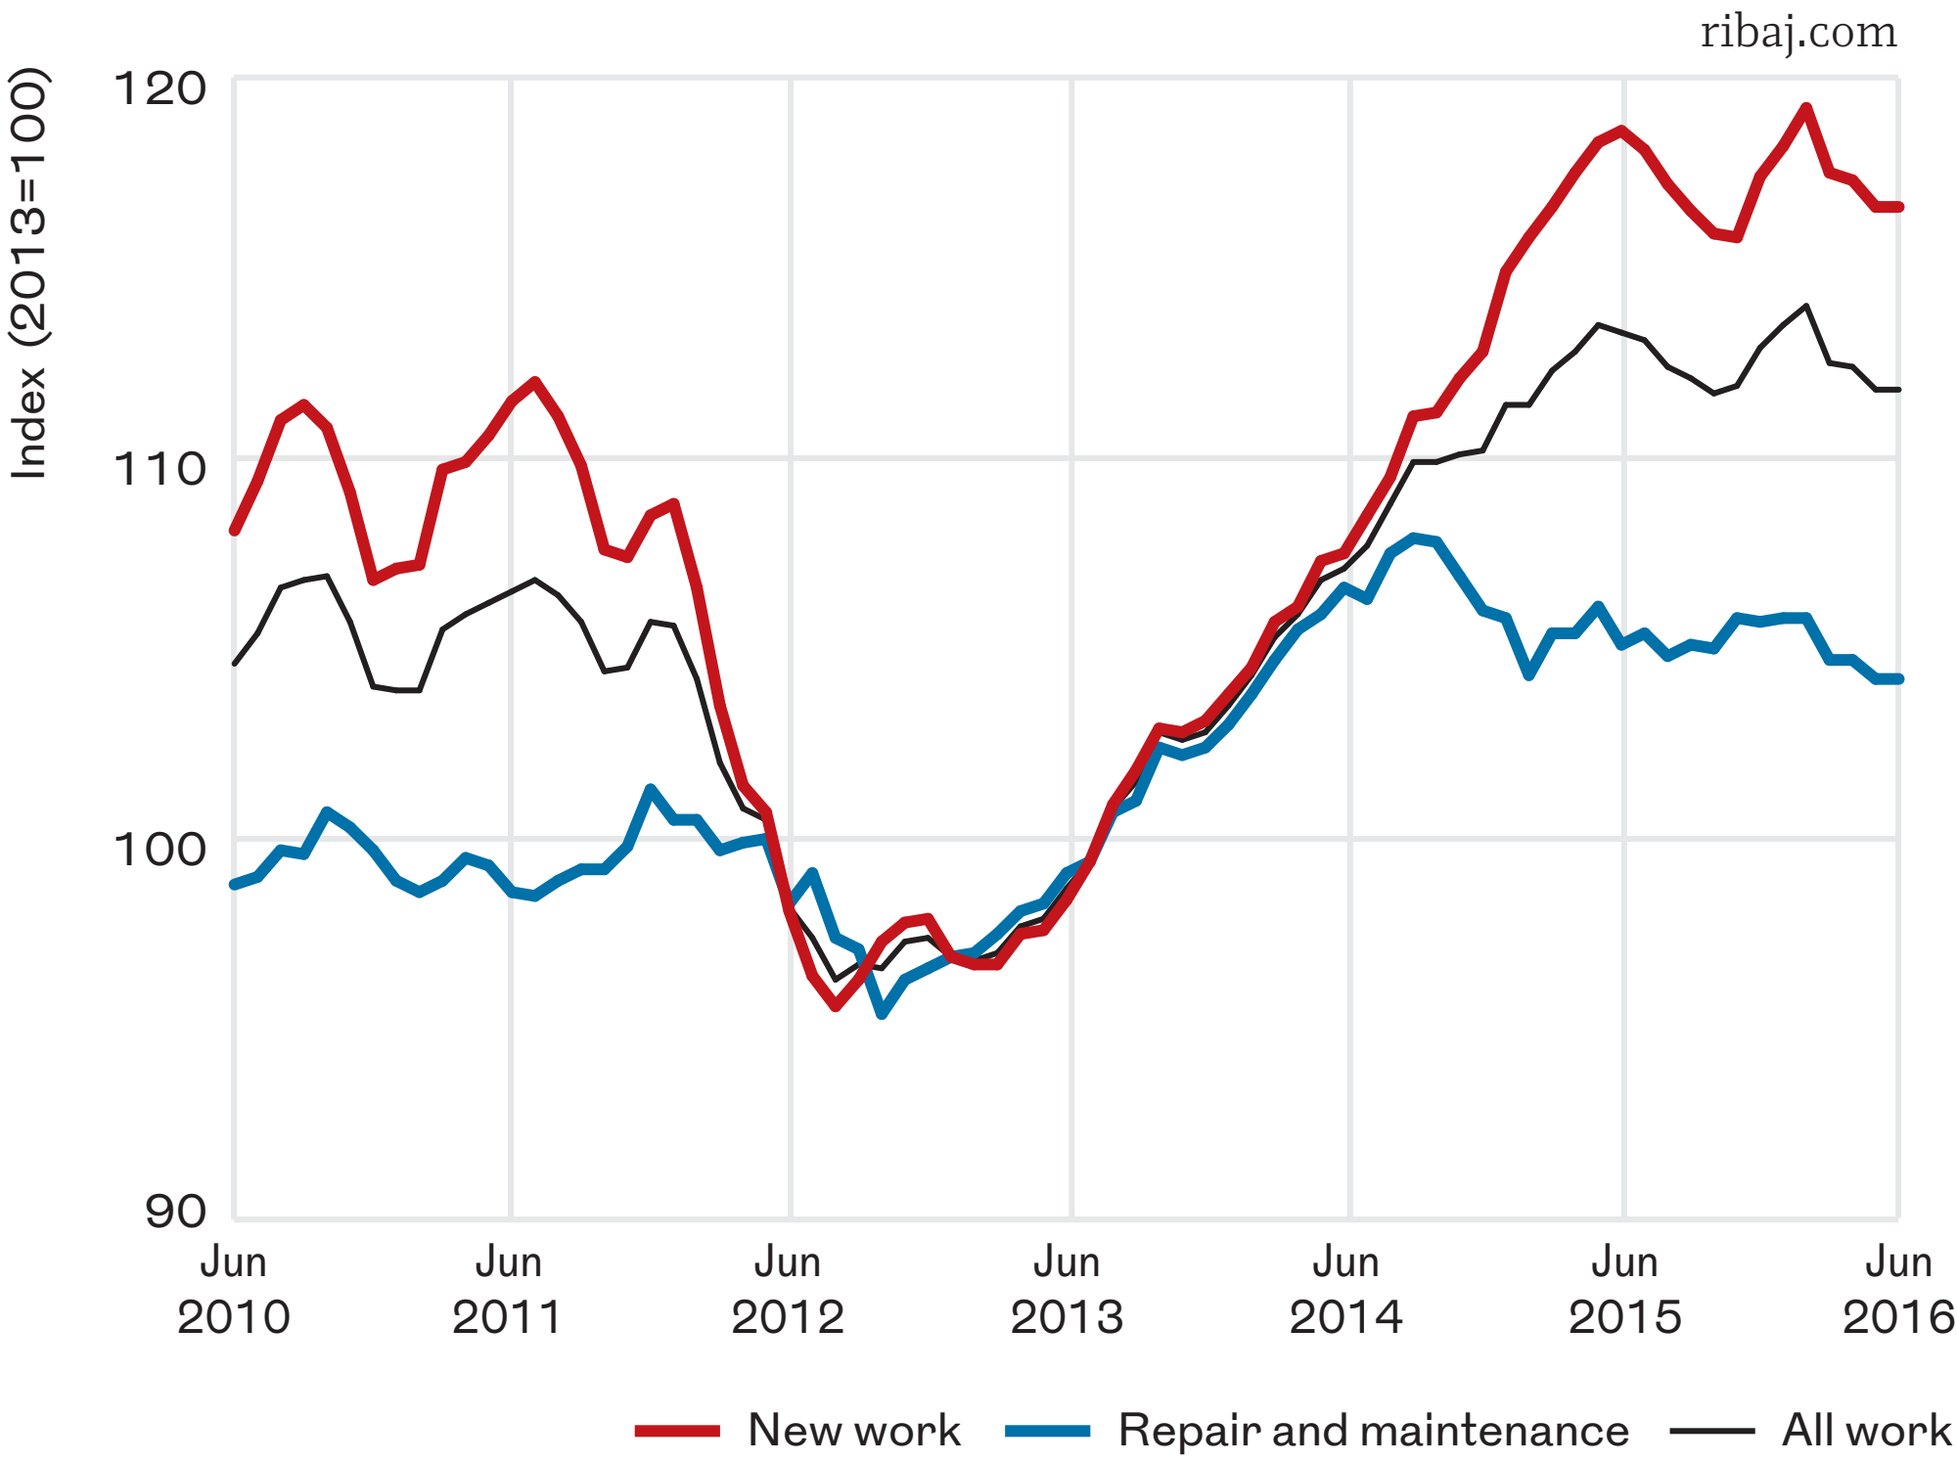
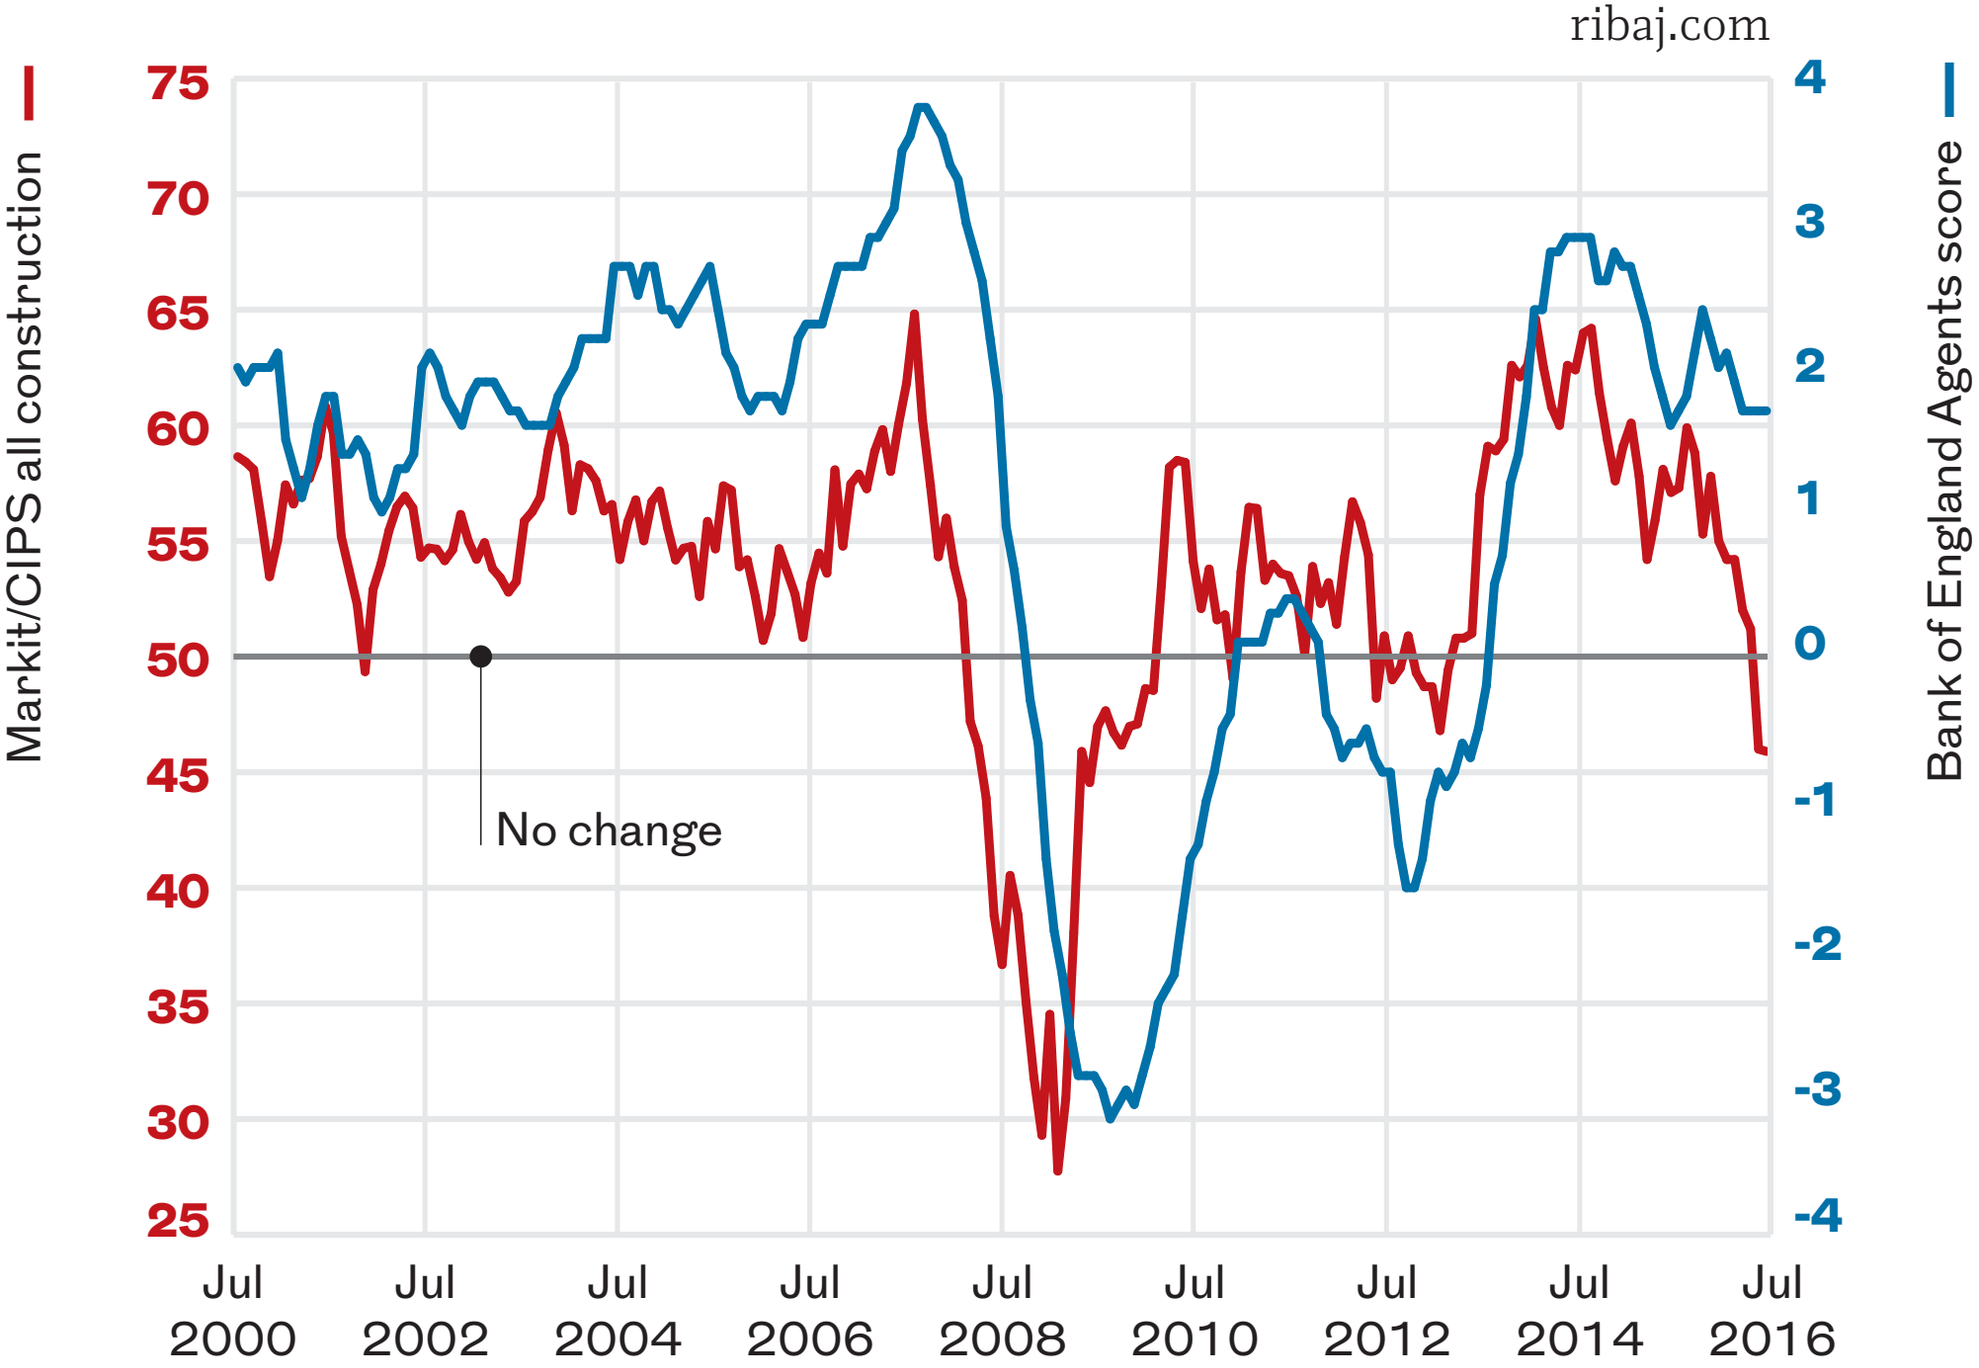
GB construction output (3-month moving average)



Source: Office for National Statistics

Notes: The data are taken from Table 1a showing seasonally adjusted estimates of the volume of work. These data have been presented as three-month moving averages to reduce distracting volatility.

Markit/CIPS and BoE Agents scores

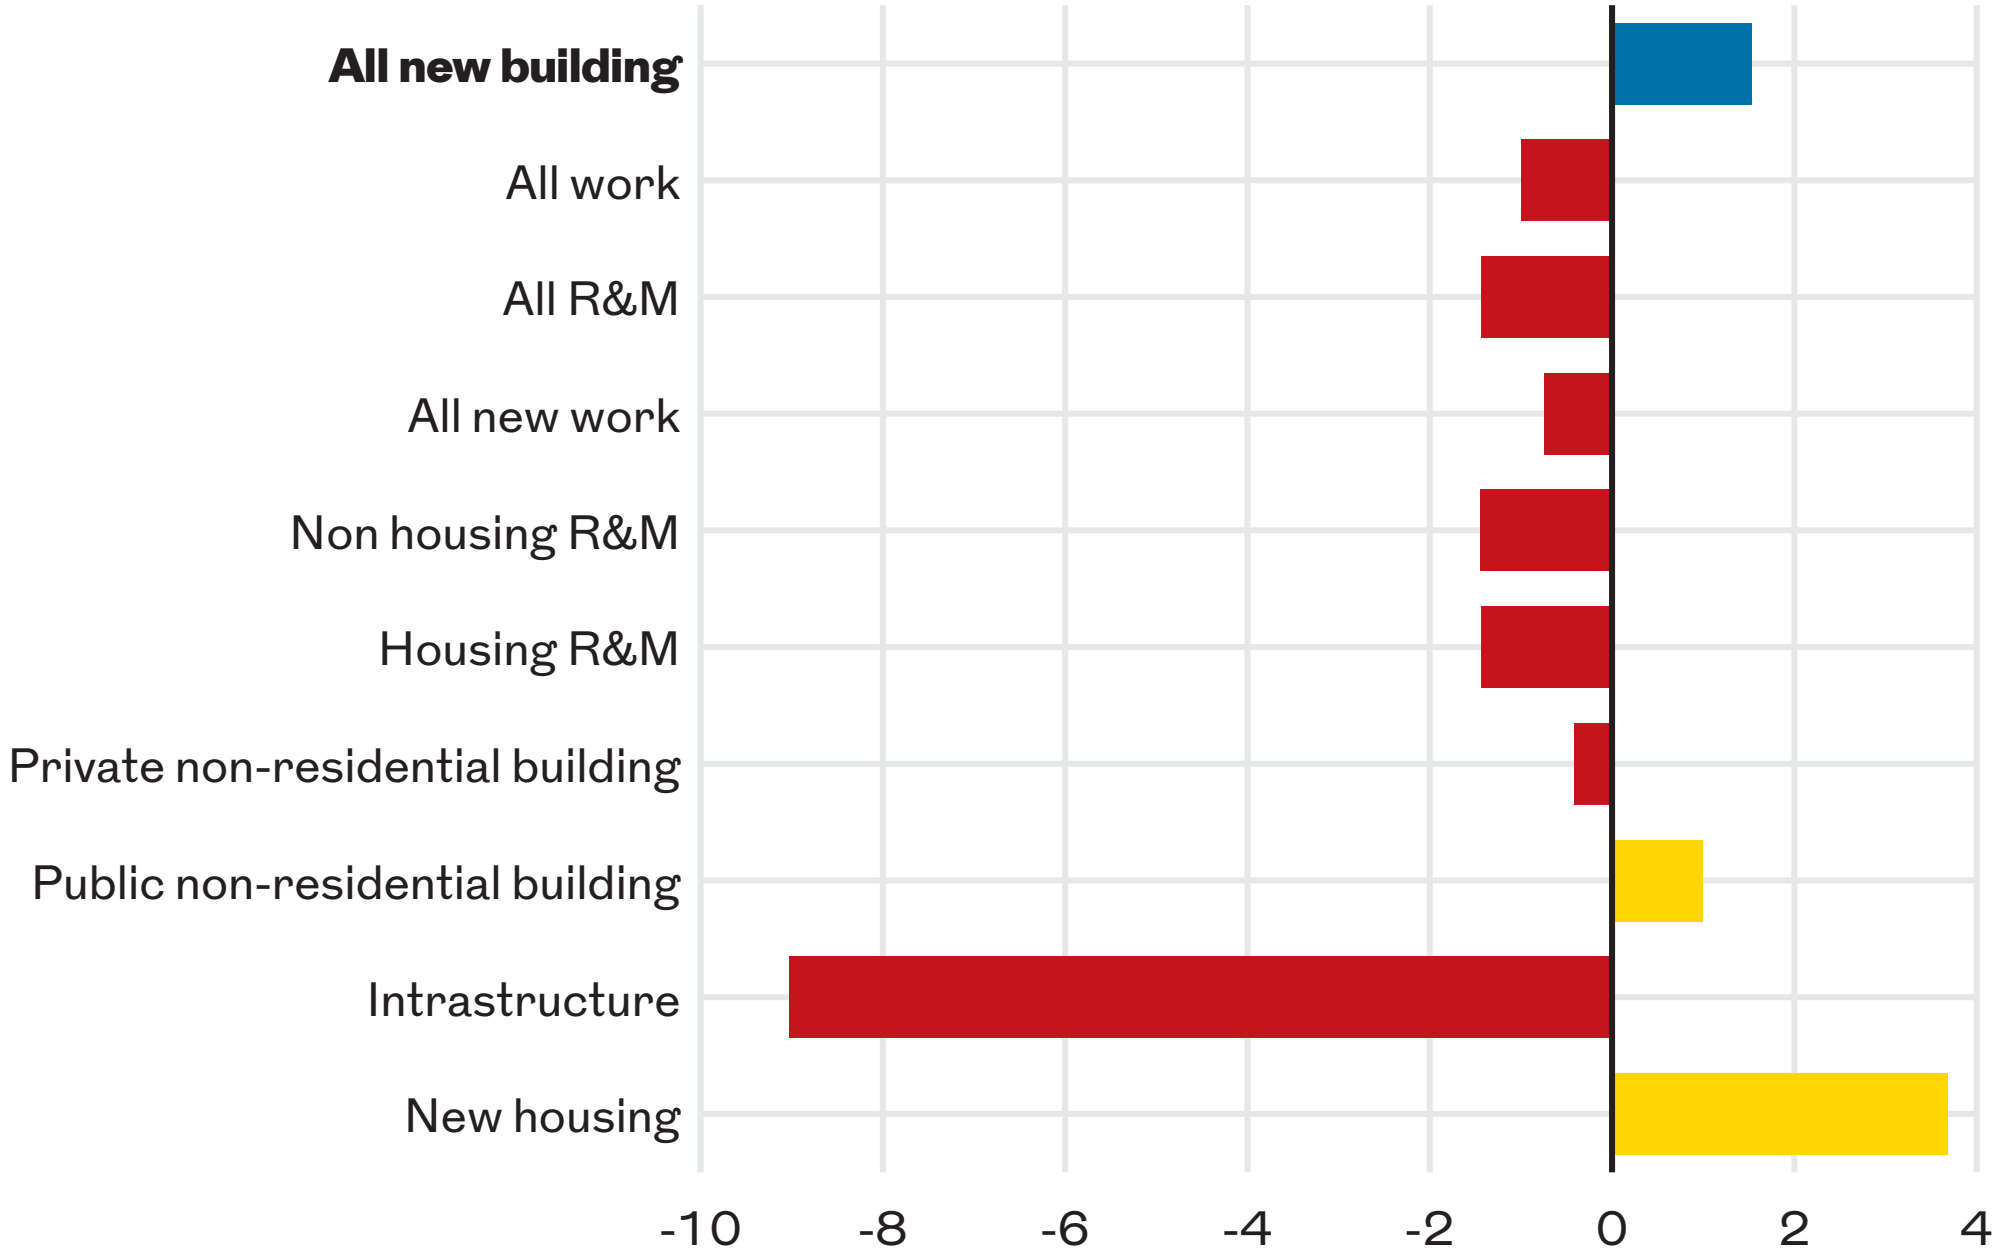


Source: Markit/CIPS and Bank of England

Notes: The scroes provide a guide to activity within the construction sector. For Bank of England positive scores represent growth. For Markit/CIPS scores above 50 represent growth.

Change (%) 2016 q2 v 2015 q4

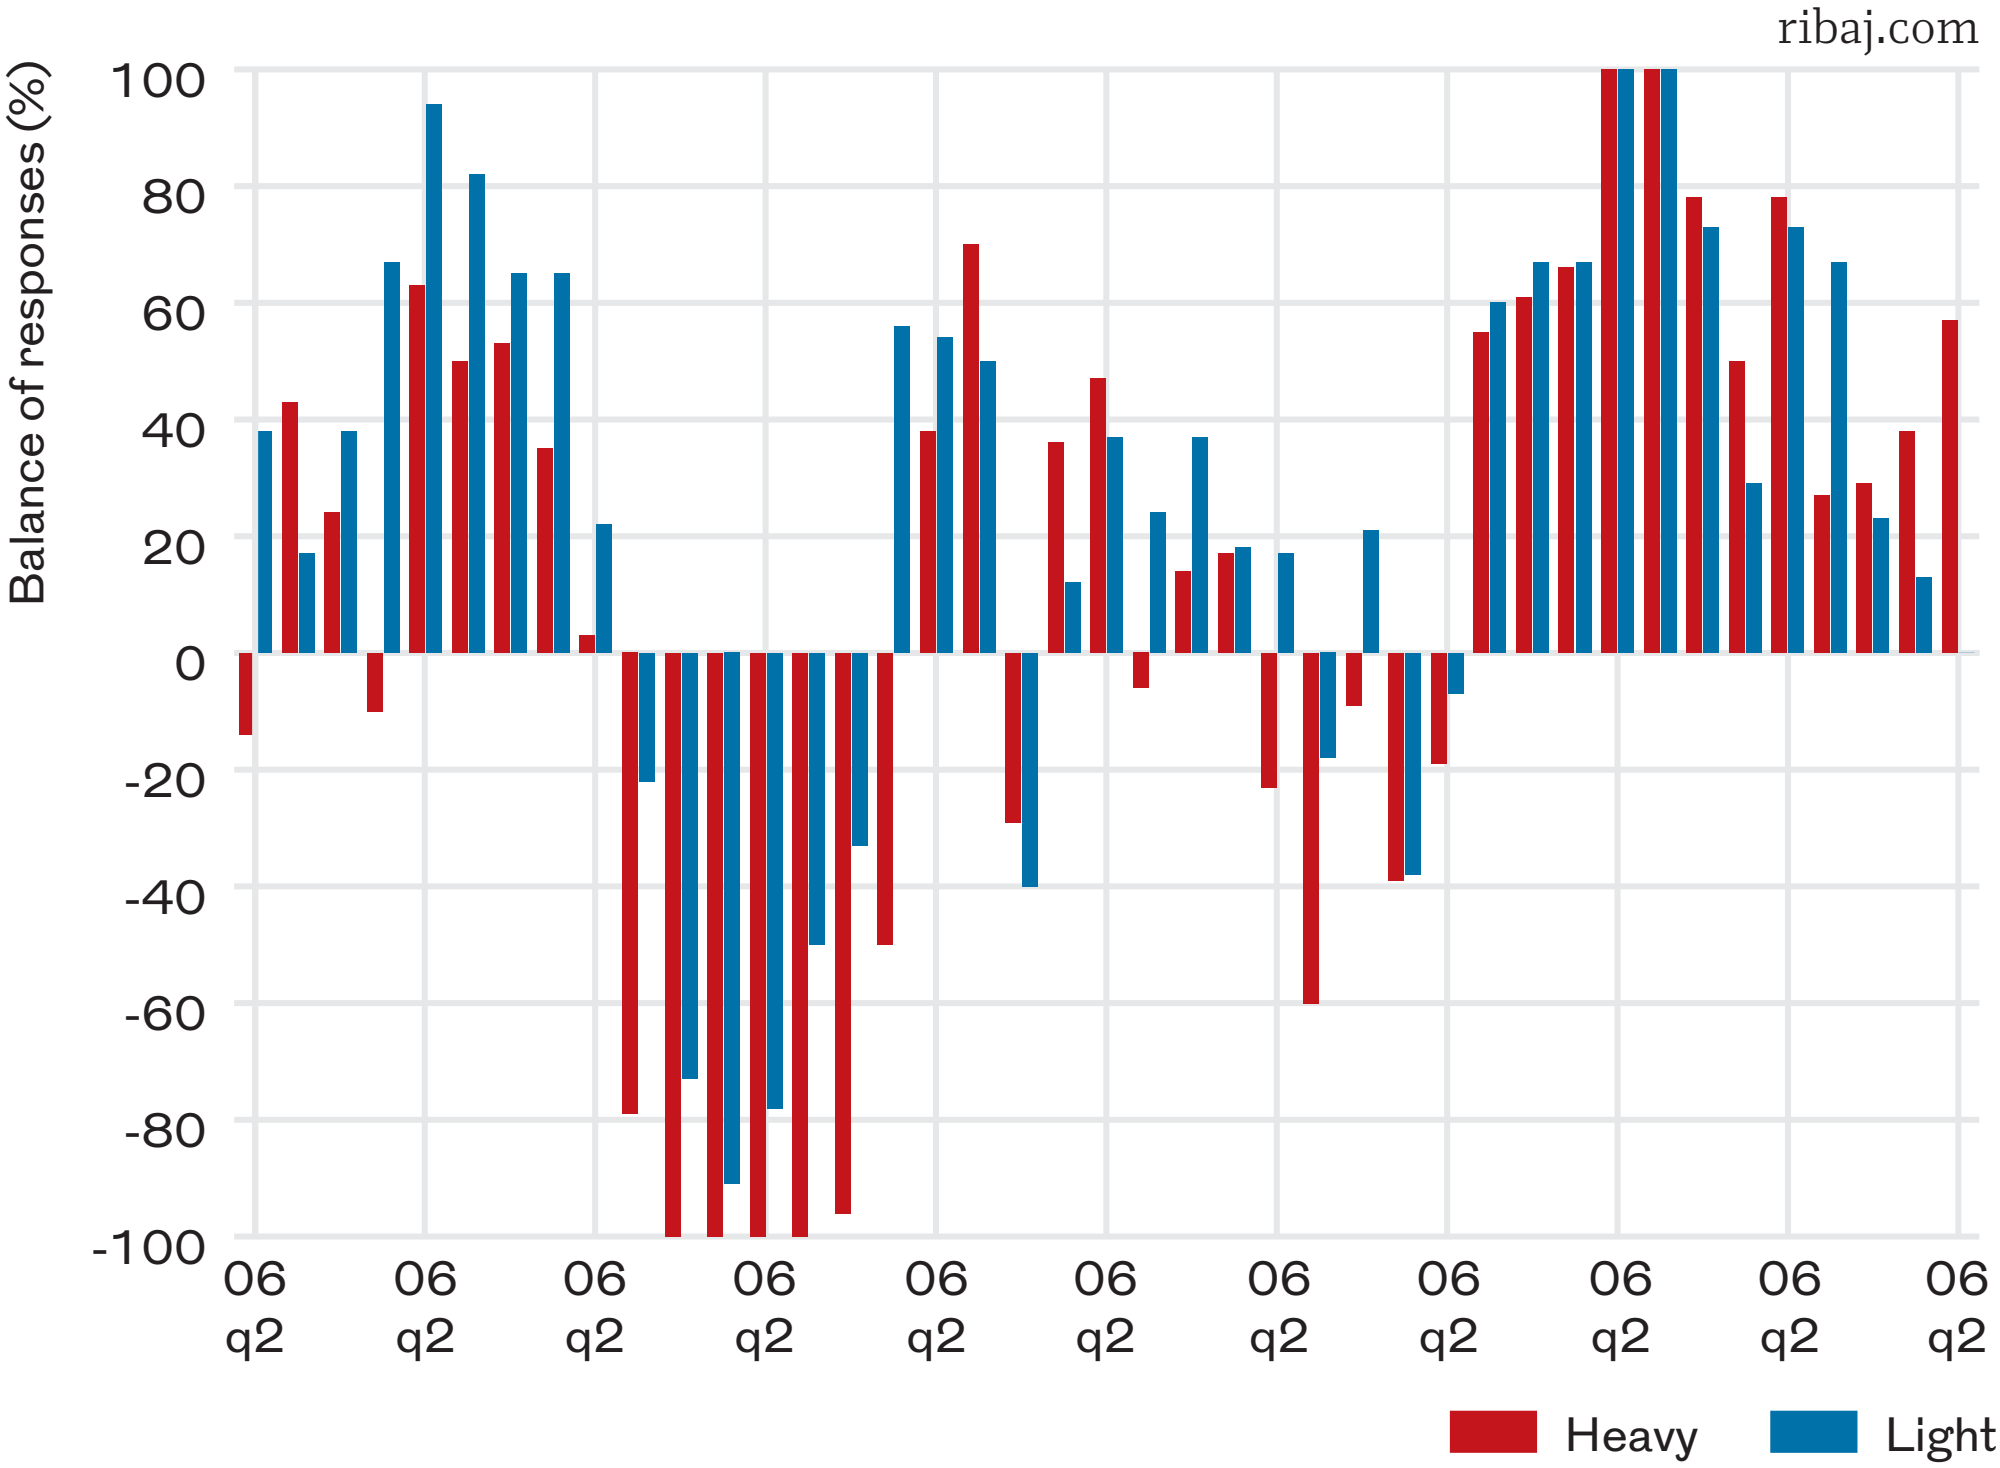
ribaj.com



Source: Office for National Statistics

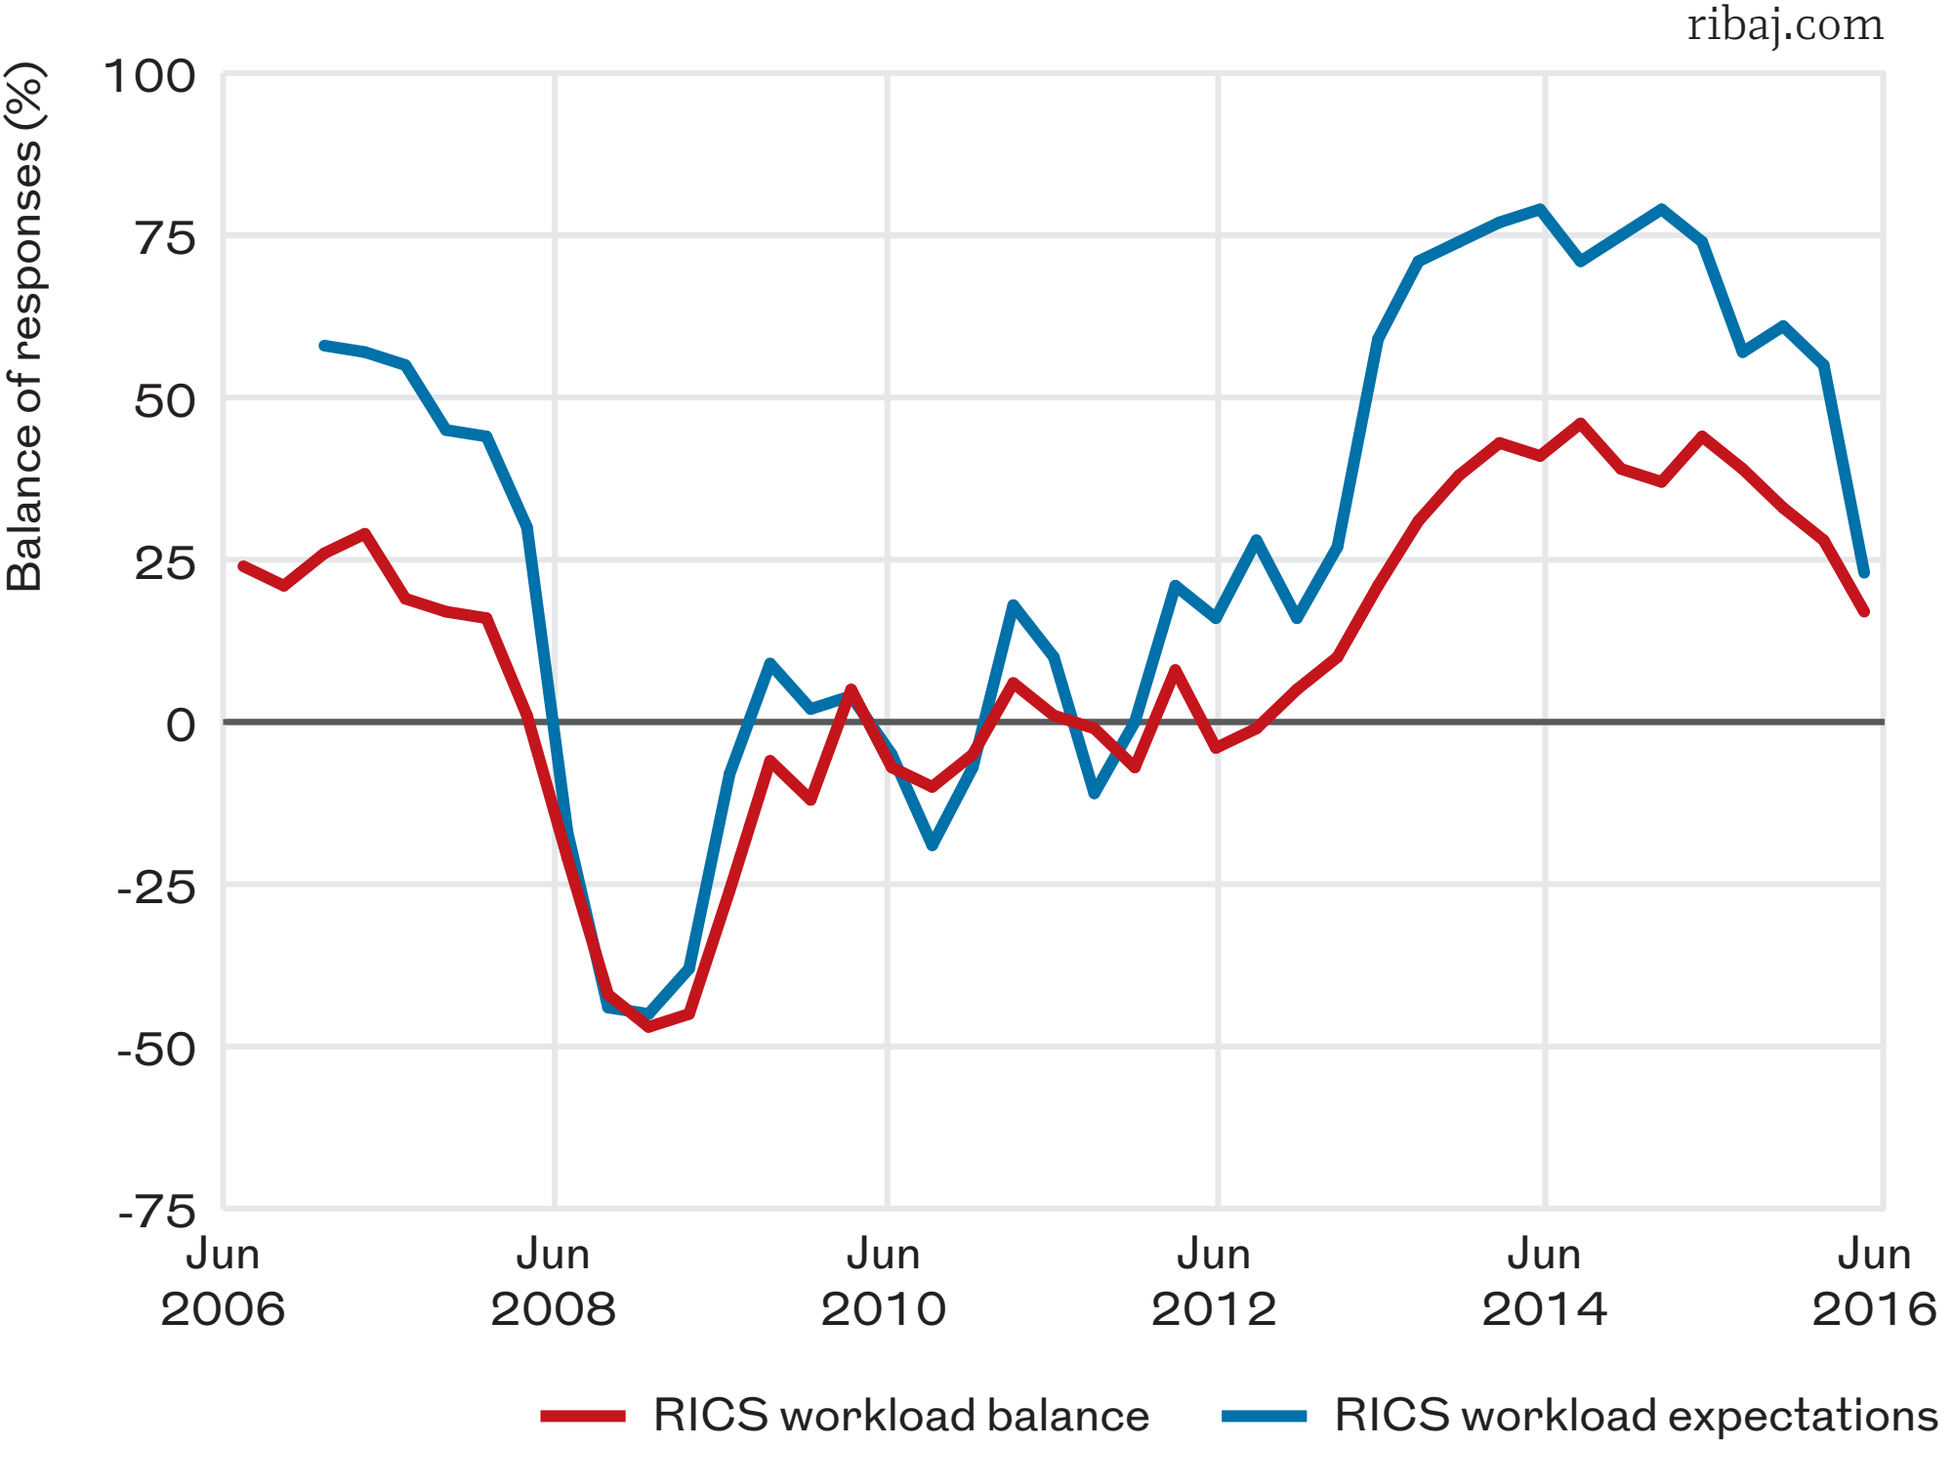
Notes: The data are taken from Table 1a showing seasonally adjusted estimates of the volume of work. These data have been presented as three-month moving averages to reduce distracting volatility.

Building materials sales volumes: balance of firms reporting growth v fall year on year



Source: Construction Products Association

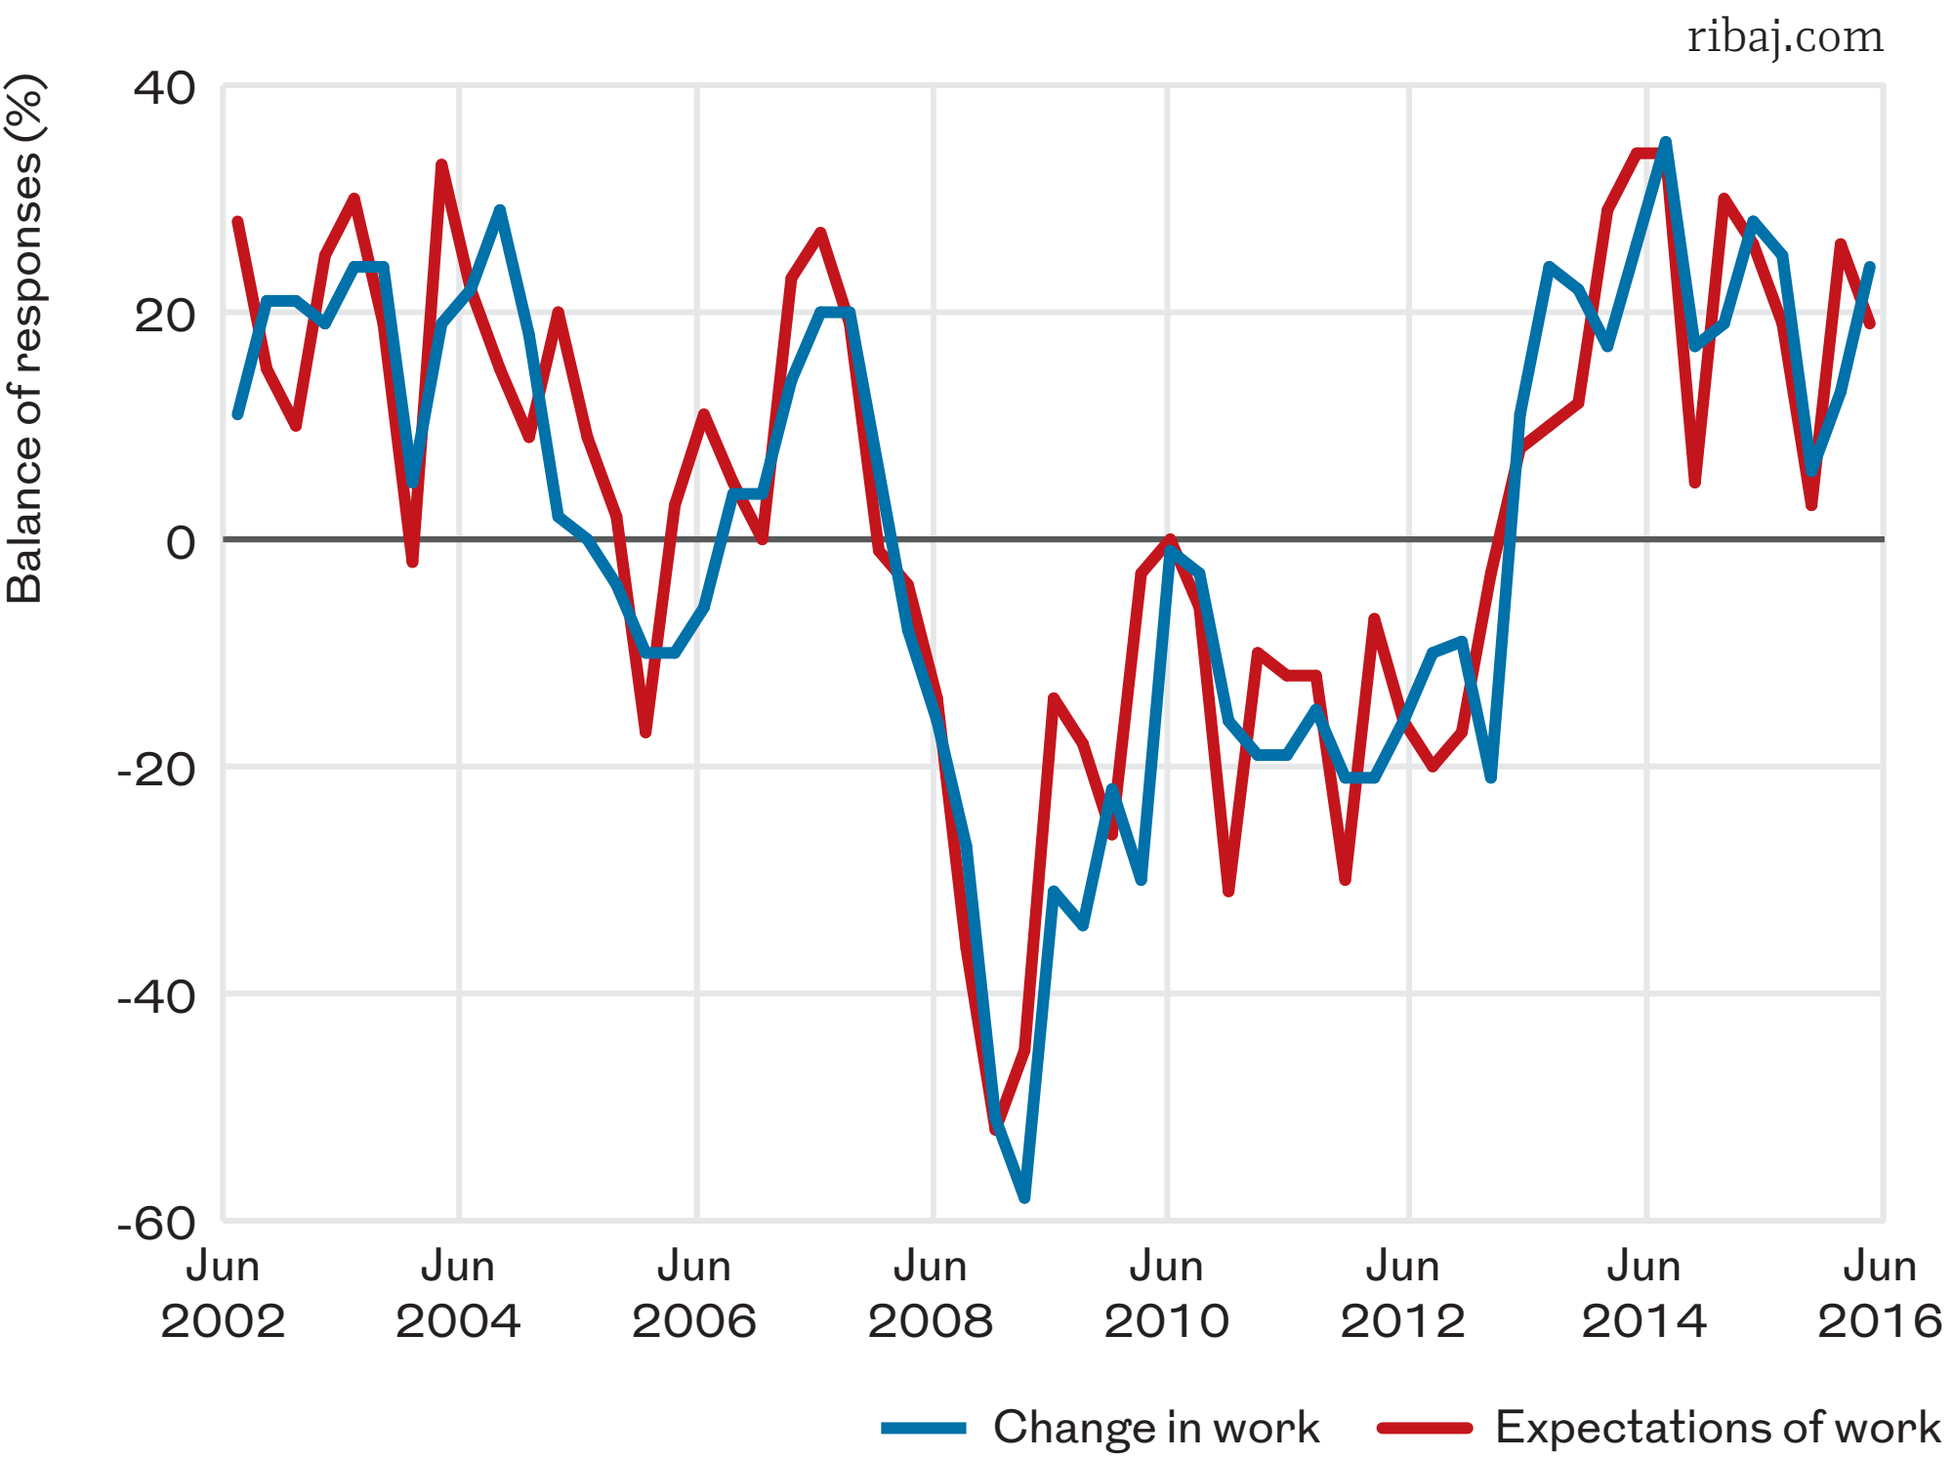
RICS workload and expectations



Source: RICS

Notes: Data comes from the RICS Construction Market Survey. It shows the balance (%) between practices undertaking more work or expecting more work in coming three months and those expecting less

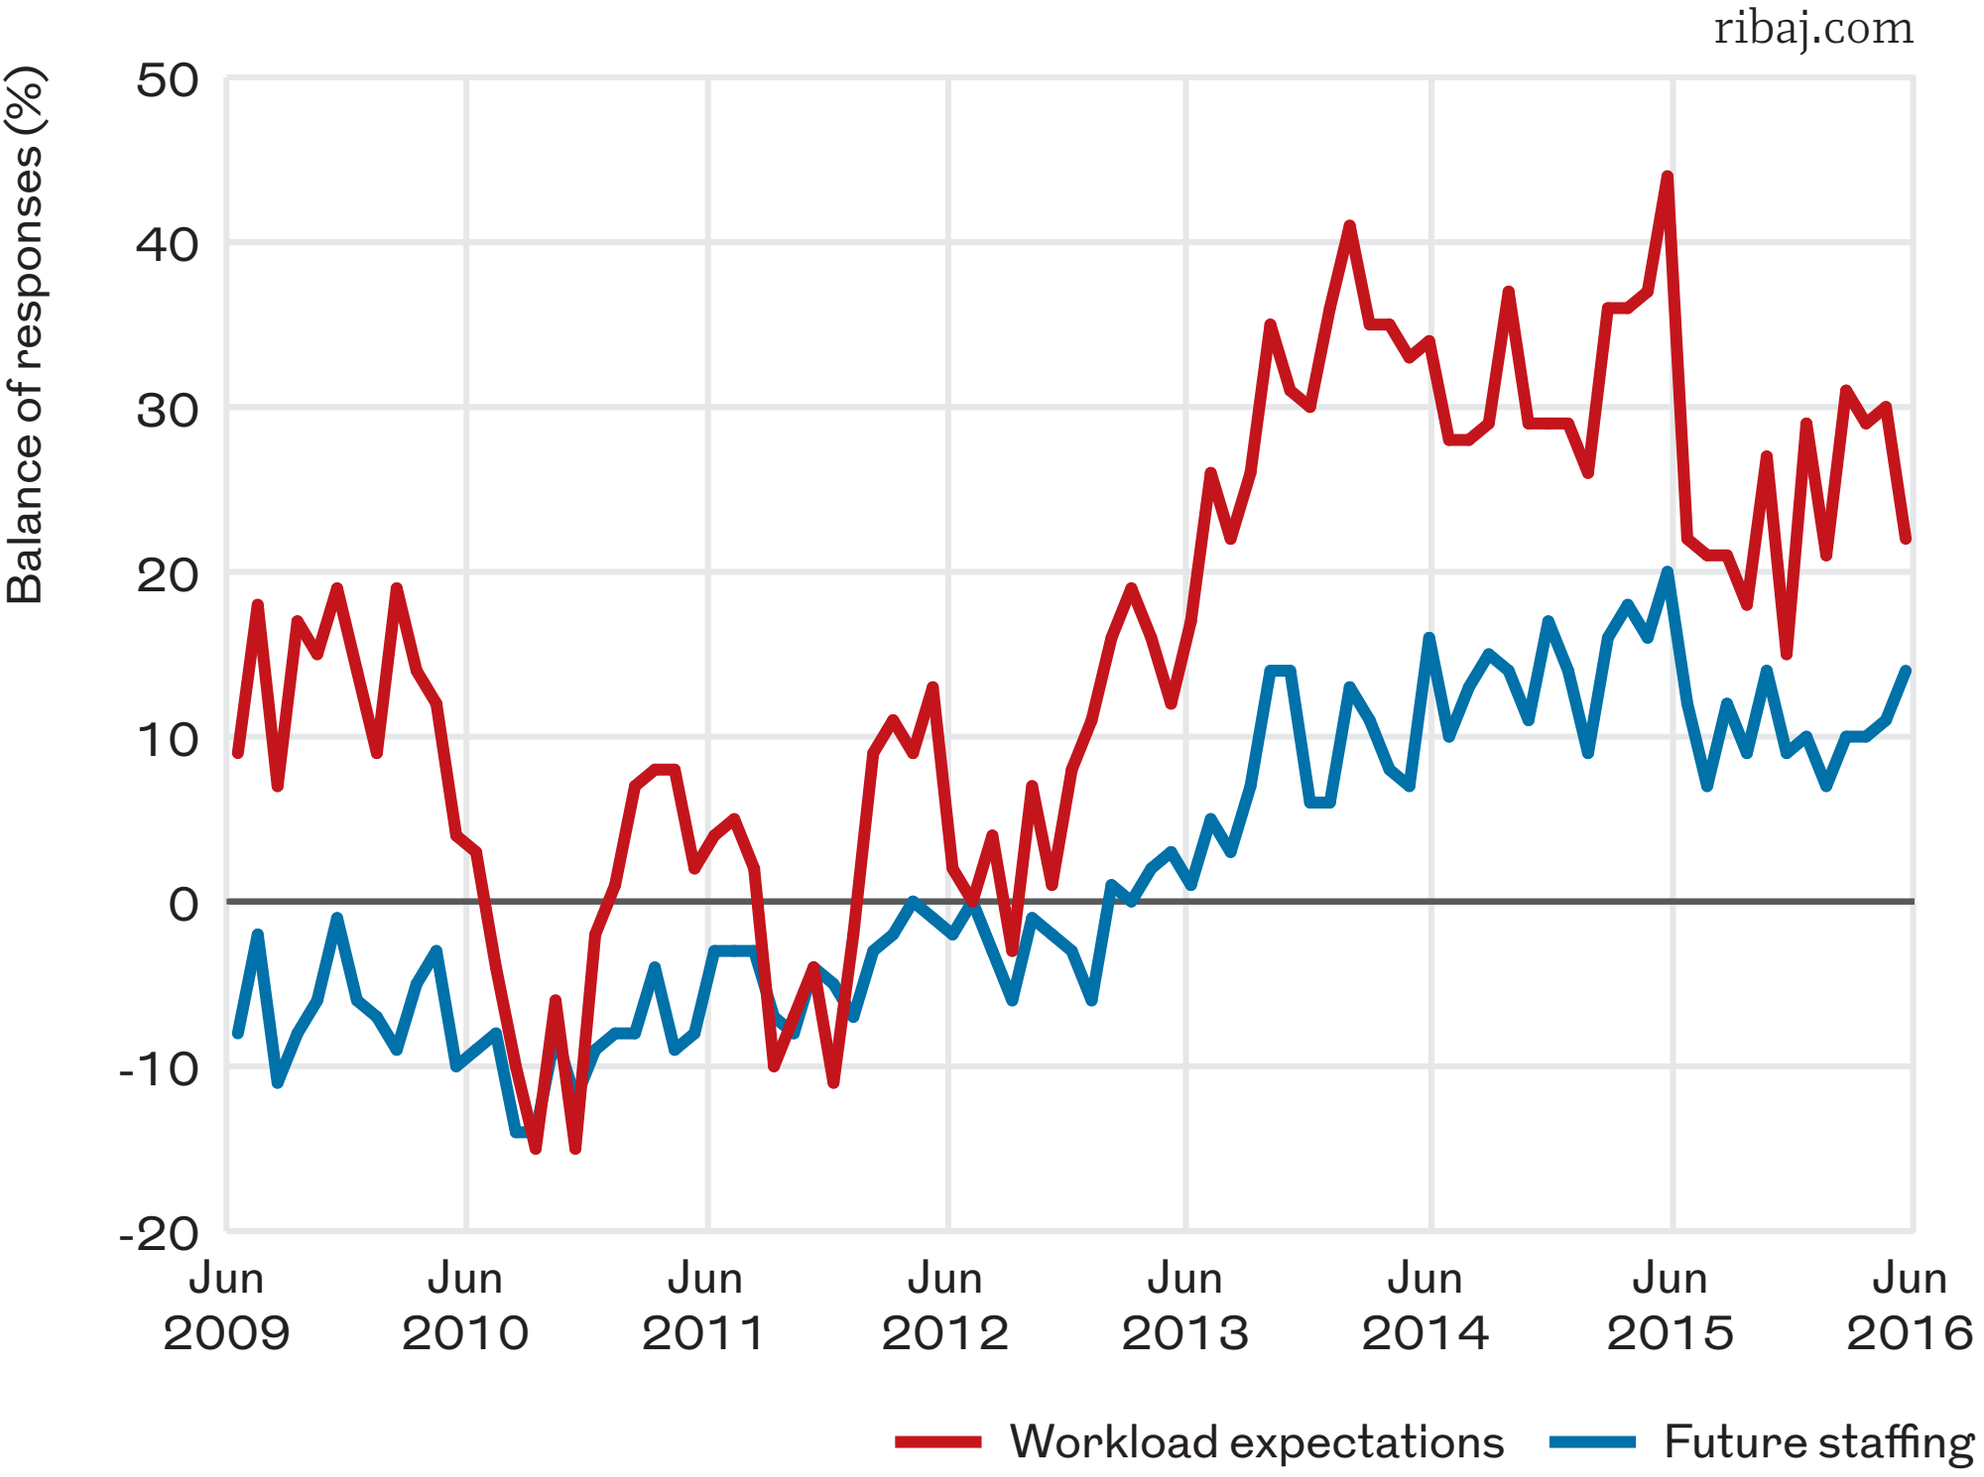
FMB state of trade workload growth and expectations



Source: Federation of Master Builders

Notes: Data comes from the FMB State of Trade Survey. It shows the balance (%) between firms undertaking more work and less work in the past three months and the balance between those expecting more and less work in the coming three months

Architects workload expectations



Source: RIBA

Notes: Data comes from the RIBA Future Trends Survey. It shows the balance (%) between practices expecting more work in coming three months and those expecting less